DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see pages 5 and 6, in combination with the amendment to the claims filed 12/20/2005, with respect to the rejection of claims 1-6 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 1-6 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) has been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Trebesch et al (US 6,968,111 B2) teach a splicing cassette management system as best shown in figures 1 and 6-15. The system includes at least two splicing cassettes (118) rotatably mounted on a splicing cassette holder (140). The holder with the cassettes is mounted on a linearly movable mounting drawer (36) which allows the cassettes and the holder to move in a first plane. The cassettes can be pivoted relative to the drawer to a second plane which is approximately 90 degrees from the first plane as can be seen in the figures. The drawer moves on guide rails inside of a housing as seen in figure 1.

3. However, Trebesch et al does not disclose nor render obvious that the splicing cassette holder is pivotably mounted on the linearly movable mounting device and that the splicing cassette holder can be pivoted relative to the mounting device from the first plane to the second plane.

4. Claims 1-6 are allowed.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

6. Claims 1-6 are allowable over the prior art of record because the latter, either alone or in combination, does not disclose nor render obvious a splicing cassette management system with a splicing cassette holder that is pivotably mounted on a linearly movable mounting device and wherein the holder can be pivoted, together with splicing cassettes, from a first plane to a second plane relative to the linearly movable mounting device in combination with the rest of the claimed limitations.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
